To GitHub Compliance & Content Moderation Teams,

This message serves as a formal notice regarding the potential removal, suppression, or deletion of material directly tied to a documented and timestamped whistleblower case. Said material, previously uploaded under protected whistleblower status, includes forensic evidence, blockchain data anomalies, and supporting documentation tied to active investigations.

Let this serve as a matter-of-record warning:

Any removal of this material, whether manual or automated, will be treated as an obstruction of protected disclosure.

The data in question is under legal observation and has been disseminated through redundant off-platform storage, with public visibility already established.

This content is not speculative. It is evidence.

I am affording you the opportunity to act in good faith. Do not become complicit through silence or deletion.

You are now officially on notice.
